Circalendar is a round kalender based on the understanding of time being cyclic like it is seen in several ancient wisdom traditions.

It is directly inspired by the native american wisdom tradition called the Delicate Lodge.

It is a map of the year indicating some of the energies that are going on through the year.

The four primary elements of the Universe: Fire, Earth, Water and Air are what everything is made of. They are connected to the four directions and represent basic energies that are important to balance in our life.

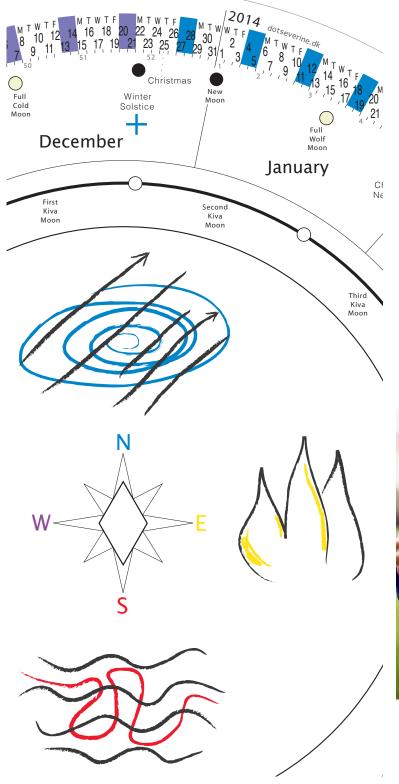

The winter time, called Kiva, is the dark, cold time when nature is asleep and the seeds of the new year are still lying in the ground, preparing for what will come. In this period it is also in the human nature to rest more, dream, become quiet and look inwards. To look back at the year passed, say goodbye and begin to dream the new seeds that will grow in the coming year.

The four Kiva Moons:

- 1: Look back on the year that passed and release.
- 2: Become quiet, reflect; what needs strengthening?
- 3: Make room for new dreams and inspiration.
- 4: Plant new seeds, let new ideas grow.

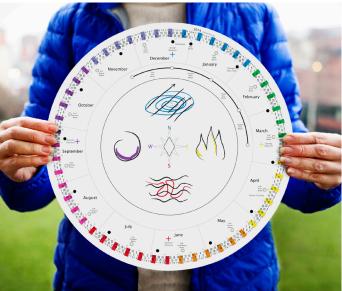

The Kiva period ends at Spring Equinox at the New Year of the tradition. In 2014 it is the 20th of March. The equinoxes and solstices are important markers through the year and are highlighted together with the four directions.

Have a great year!
